

WEDDING SURPRISE

ALD. C. H. GIBSON MARRIED

A romantic secret, well-kept for nearly a week, is revealed in the news that Ald. C. H. Gibson was married at Croydon Register Office on Wednesday of last week.

Mrs. Gibson is an Addiscombe resident and was Miss Dorothy Perkins before her marriage. The couple are now on their honeymoon in the South of France.

Ald. Gibson, who lives in Wellesley-road, is head of the well-known firm of building contractors that bears his name, and which has been responsible for some of the most important of recent buildings in the centre of Croydon. He joined the Council in 1921 and was elected to the aldermanic bench last year. The Croydon Repertory Theatre is one of his chief spare time interests outside municipal work.
